FALLEN WEST COVINA POLICE OFFICERS HONORED WITH CITY STREET SIGNS

The West Covina Police Department has lost three police officers in the line of duty in its 79-year history. The West Covina Police Officers Association has paid for three special street signs, honoring the fallen officers, installed at three locations in the city:

- Sunset Avenue and Robert O'Young Parkway (honoring Officer Frederik J. Ham – end of watch Dec. 9, 1940)
- Holt Avenue and Garvey Avenue South (honoring Officer Jay W. Jackson – end of watch

Jan. 14, 1978)

- Francisquito Avenue and Glenview Road (honoring Officer Kenneth S. Wrede – end of watch Aug. 31, 1983)

These officers made the ultimate sacrifice while serving the citizens of West Covina.

City of West Covina Invests in New Vehicles for Public Safety

The City is investing in new vehicles for public safety to replace older vehicles that have exceeded their useful and safe operating life spans.

The West Covina Police Department will receive eight black-and-white SUV Interceptor vehicles for patrol officers, four sedan vehicles for detectives, five SUV's for administration/command staff, one sedan vehicle for the Special Enforcement Team, one pickup truck for community services officers, and one passenger van to transport West Covina Police Department Explorers.

Additionally, the West Covina Police Department has ordered a traffic motorcycle and an armored truck to be received this year.

The West Covina Fire Department will receive two new fire engines and one quint aerial ladder truck from Pierce Manufacturing of Appleton, Wisc.

The new fire engines and quint aerial ladder truck will provide service as frontline firefighting apparatus/vehicles that will be used on a daily basis. The addition of these new vehicles will also allow the fire department to bolster the amount of reliable apparatus used in a reserve capacity, which is critical to maintain service levels when frontline apparatus must be taken out of service for maintenance.

The new fire engines and quint aerial ladder truck are expected to be placed into service within one year.

East San Gabriel Valley Japanese Community Center

The East San Gabriel Valley Japanese Community Center (ESGVJCC) bridges culture, family and community, and it stands as a vibrant Japanese-American regional, cultural and community organization that spans across Los Angeles County, the Inland Empire and Orange County. It is home to more than 25 cultural, educational, artistic, recreational and social programs serving more than 1,000 families.

Established in 1936 and incorporated as a nonprofit organization in 1951, the ESGVJCC now partners with the City of West Covina to host the annual West Covina Cherry Blossom Festival; the Sister City association of West Covina and Ohtawara, Japan; and the annual summer student exchange program between the two cities.

It works with Japanese-American organizations, civic officials, performing artists, campus clubs and educational institutions to collaborate on the design and delivery of innovative and essential programs and services for the community, such as the annual Family Health Fair.

Out of the strong relationship with the City of West Covina, two programs emerged, the annual student exchange program and the Cherry Blossom Festival.

For 12 years, the ESGVJCC has been a part of giving students a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to gain a greater appreciation of Japan and its culture and to build new friendships that will last a lifetime while creating a new family in another country. This summer, students ages 13 to 17 are welcome to join the delegation to West Covina's sister city of Ohtawara, Japan from Aug. 2 to 10.

Since 2001, the annual West Covina

Cherry Blossom Festival has given residents an opportunity to learn about Japanese culture, sample a variety of Japanese and Japanese-American cuisine, enjoy traditional music and dance performances, watch martial arts demonstrations, and be entertained by Japanese Taiko drums. This year's event will be on March 19 from noon to 6 p.m. at South Hills Plaza.

The future of the ESGVJCC is reflected by the dynamic combination of the increasing diversity within the Japanese-American community; the broad attraction to Japanese cultural traditions; and involvement in community-based social services, and artistic, recreational and educational programs.

For more information, visit the Web site at esgvjcc.org, call (626) 960-2566, or e-mail info@esgvjcc.org.

City of West Covina to Dedicate

NEW CAMERON PARK INCLUSIVE PLAYGROUND

West Covina's first inclusive playground will be completed in March. This playground will allow typical children to play alongside children with special needs.

The new playground at Cameron Park will include a pirate-themed playground complete with wheelchair ramps and an adaptive swing set.

Join the City of West Covina on Saturday, April 2 at 11 a.m. for a dedication ceremony.

This playground was made possible through a Healthy Play Grant through California Park and Recreation Society and Playcore.

For more information, call the Community Services Department at (626) 939-8430.

COMMUNITY GROUP SPOTLIGHT

WEST COVINA BEAUTIFUL

West Covina Beautiful is one of the oldest nonprofit community organizations in West Covina, and it has become part of the city's traditions and history. A group of civic-minded people founded the organization in 1948.

West Covina Beautiful is active in the promotion of environmentally sound and beneficial beautification programs. Some of the community events that West Covina Beautiful presents are the City of West Covina Birthday Celebration in February each year. At this event, beautification awards are presented to those in the community who have helped enhance West Covina through their dedication and commitment to making it a beautiful place.

West Covina Beautiful also participates in "Five Weeks of Green" with the City of West Covina by honoring a special community member with the planting of a memorial tree in the city to celebrate Arbor Day. The group also participates in Earth Day and other community events, such as the City of West Covina's Community Service Day.

West Covina Beautiful also participates in the Adopt a Park Program, in which the group maintains Aroma Parquette. West Covina Beautiful also holds its annual meeting with a fashion show along with a garden tour.

Membership for West Covina Beautiful is $10 per family or $15 for a business. Membership runs from January through December.

For more information, contact Colleen B. Rozatti at (626) 384-8126.

CITY OF WEST COVINA TO CELEBRATE 93RD BIRTHDAY

Save the date for the City of West Covina's 93rd birthday bash on Wednesday, Feb. 17. Time and location to be announced. For more information, call Colleen B. Rozatti, president of West Covina Beautiful, at (626) 384-8126.

Sign Up for Citizens' Academy

The West Covina Police Department announces the return of the popular Citizens' Academy beginning in February.

This informative program offers community members an up-close and personal look at how the police department operates.

Class members will learn about various police personnel, tools and techniques that work to enhance public safety. They will observe aspects of police operations, including patrol, investigations, forensics, SWAT and K9 operations.

These free classes will be held at West Covina City

Hall on Thursdays from 6 to 8:30 p.m. for 10 weeks beginning Feb. 4.

To sign up, call (626) 939-8530 or e-mail CitizensAcademy@wcpd.org.

Community Connections Program Helps People Get Around

Community Connections is a volunteer driver program that provides transportation to seniors and individuals with disabilities who cannot easily use other transportation services.

The program provides mileage reimbursement for volunteer drivers to transport individuals who are too frail, ill or unable to use public transportation.

Those who are eligible are seniors and individuals with disabilities who do not drive, are too frail or ill to drive, do not have family support, do not have access to transportation, or are unable to use public transportation.

How it works is riders choose and recruit their own volunteer drivers, and the drivers receive mileage reimbursement through the riders. Rides are scheduled by riders and volunteer drivers as mutually convenient.

For more information, call Community Connections at (909) 621-9900 or visit the Web site at www.communityconnections-css.org.

HOMEOWNERS:

Apply Now for Property Tax Exemption

The Office of the Assessor offers property tax exemptions that may save homeowners money on their property tax bills.

Among the most common exemptions is the Homeowners' Exemption. This exemption lowers the home's assessed value by $7,000, thereby reducing the annual property tax bill by about $70.

If you own a home and it is your principal place of residence, you may qualify for the Homeowners' Exemption.

The homeowner needs to apply only once with the Office of Los Angeles County Assessor Jeffrey Prang by filling out a claim form, which is available online for download at www.assessor.lacounty.gov/homeowners-exemption/

A homeowner filing for the first time may file at any time. However, in order to receive the full exemption for that year, homeowners must apply no later than Feb. 15 after the January 1 tax lien date.

For forms and additional information, call (213) 974-3211 or (888) 807-2111.

Do Your Part to PREVENT WATER POLLUTION

Urban run-off is water containing pollutants, such as trash, debris, oil and grease, that washes into the storm drain system and is carried to the ocean. Unlike the sewer system, any water or pollutant that enters the storm drains is not treated. Whatever goes into the system is washed through it and ends up on our beaches.

Urban run-off is considered to be one of the biggest polluters of Southern California beaches and the cause of numerous beach closures that can seriously affect the ocean environment and the health and safety of swimmers.

Like all Los Angeles County cities, West Covina is linked to the storm drain system. So even though we're approximately 30 miles from the ocean, we can still affect its environment. The pollutants we put into the storm drain system can and do make their way to the ocean.

The fertilizers on our lawns, the oil on our driveways, the water we use to clean paint brushes can all end up in the storm drain system. The very basic fix-it jobs we do around the house can end up polluting our beaches.

The National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) controls the amount of pollutants we allow to enter the storm drain system. The implementation of NPDES in California has resulted in the development of management practices that help prevent sending pollutants into the storm drain system.

The City of West Covina Public Works Department has information available to help you manage your home- or business-improvement projects following NPDES guidelines. For more information, call (626) 939-8425.

Follow these tips to reduce the amount of pollutants entering the storm drain system.

1. Toxins such as household cleaners and paint products can become pollutants if not disposed of properly. Take household chemicals to a local household hazardous waste roundup.

2. Only mix the amount of concrete or mortar that you will use. Store bags of cement and plaster on pallets and under cover. Do not dispose of cement washout or concrete dust onto driveways, streets, gutters or storm drains.

3. Do not clean paint brushes or rinse paint containers into the street, gutter or storm drain. Paint out brushes to the best extent possible. Clean oil-based paints off brushes with thinner or dispose of brushes at hazardous waste roundups. Rinse water-based paints off brushes in the sink. Dried brushes and containers can be disposed of in the trash.

4. Use organic or nontoxic fertilizers and pesticides. Do not fertilize near ditches, gutters or storm drains. Do not overfertilize or fertilize right before a rainstorm. Collect fallen leaves instead of allowing them to be blown into the street and gutters.

5. On auto maintenance jobs, clean up spills with cat box litter, use funnels when pouring liquids, place spill trays underneath work areas and use drip pans to control leaks. Sweep down your work area instead of hosing down. Recycle used motor oil at collection centers.

For household hazardous waste roundup information or to report illegal dumping, call (888) Clean LA or (888) 253-2652.
