REVITALIZE GLENDORA AVENUE
COME AND PARTICIPATE IN A DESIGN WORKSHOP
TUESDAY, AUGUST 30, 2016 AT 6:00 PM
AT CAMERON COMMUNITY CENTER

You're Invited to Aug. 30 Design Workshop

Come and participate in a Glendora Avenue design workshop on Tuesday, Aug. 30 at 6 p.m. at Cameron Community Center, 1305 E. Cameron Ave., West Covina.

The City of West Covina is taking the next step in the redesign of Glendora Avenue to create a "ramblas" design (creation of an open-space area to run along the center of the street from Dalewood Street to Walnut Creek Parkway).

The open space and redesigned street will provide opportunities for civic events, festivals, street fairs and other types of community events.

All business owners, property owners and community members are invited and encouraged to participate in the design workshop to provide input and begin the discussion on the future of the street.

For more information, visit www.westcovina.org.

YOU CAN WORK WHERE YOU LIVE!

The City of West Covina is hiring. Check out the City's website at www.westcovina.org, and under the "What's New" tab, click on "Jobs Available" to see current job opportunities with the City of West Covina.

WEST COVINA APPROVES BALANCED BUDGET

MAINTAINS FRONTLINE PUBLIC SAFETY SERVICES

On June 21, the West Covina City Council adopted a balanced budget for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 in the amount of $114,843,618, which includes a $60.5 million General Fund budget. The budget was balanced without the use of City reserves.

This year, the City of West Covina conducted two community budget meetings as well as its first community budget survey to assist in determining funding priorities for the coming year. Based on the feedback received, public safety services remain the community's No. 1 priority. The community also supports the City's efforts to maintain a 20 percent General Fund Reserve, pay down the City's debt, and address the City's long-term financial obligations.

The budget includes the hiring of three additional police officers, bringing the police department to 100 sworn officers; paying down of approximately $6.3 million in City debt; investing in information technology improvements to provide residents with transparency and better access to City records and applications; funding for economic development efforts to bring new businesses to West Covina; increased programming at the Shadow Oak Community Center; and more.

The City Council also approved a $5.4 million Capital Improvement Project (CIP) budget. In addition to funding street repaving projects, park improvements, and security upgrades at City facilities, this year's CIP budget will allow for the purchase of new police cars.

Most of the revenues generated in West Covina come from sales and property taxes, with additional revenues from permit fees collected, charges for services, and interest from City investments. The accompanying diagram illustrates how much of each dollar is spent on City services. To learn more, visit www.westcovina.org.

NEW VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES OPEN AT WEST COVINA POLICE DEPARTMENT

The West Covina Police Department has expanded its volunteer program and is seeking new volunteers. Previously, the police department's SHOP (Seniors Helping Our Police) program was limited to volunteers age 55 or older. Now, the new "West Covina Police Volunteers" program is open to volunteers who are age 40 or older.

This expanded volunteer program allows citizens to channel their energy back into the community by performing nonhazardous public-safety duties on a volunteer basis. This frees up police officers, who are made more available to fulfill essential emergency and law enforcement duties in the field.

Volunteers work two-person teams in fully equipped, marked vehicles, seven days a week, performing duties such as marking abandoned or illegally parked vehicles, performing vacation house checks for residents, serving subpoenas, issuing parking citations, and more.

If you're 40 or older, in good physical condition, possess a valid California driver's license and are willing to put in a minimum of four hours of volunteer service per week, call (626) 939-8500 for more information.

Get Ready and Set for West Covina Pumpkin 5K and Health Fair Event

You're invited to the annual West Covina Pumpkin 5K Run/Walk and Kids' 1K Fun Run and Health Fair on Saturday, Oct. 8 from 6:30 to 10 a.m. at the West Covina Senior Center, 2501 E. Cortez St. Proceeds are to benefit the Senior Center.

Join in on fun for the entire family.

To register for the run or for more information, call (626) 430-7588 Ext. 700 or send an e-mail to info@westcovina5k.com.

The Senior Center will also host a health fair with vendors and activities for the whole family. For more information about the health fair, call (626) 331-5366.

Upgrade Your Property with PACE Program

PROPERTY ASSESSED CLEAN ENERGY

Energy- and water-saving improvements that were formerly expensive and out of reach are now attainable through the PACE program.

The Property Assessed Clean Energy (PACE) program provides property owners access to financing for energy efficiency, renewable energy, and water-saving improvements on their properties. The program is available to both residential property owners as well as commercial proprietors.

The residential program offers homeowners loans up to 15 percent of their home value for energy upgrades, while the commercial program allows proprietors to negotiate their own rates and terms. The loan repayment is through an assessment on the property owner's property taxes and repaid based on mutually agreed terms.

The residential program is managed by two program administrators, CaliforniaFirst and Home Energy Renovation Opportunity (HERO). The sole program administrator for the commercial PACE program is Los Angeles County PACE.

For a complete list of eligible homeowner upgrades and additional information, visit the HERO program's website at www.heroprogram.com, or the CaliforniaFirst website at www.californiafirst.com.

For a complete list of eligible commercial upgrades and additional information, visit the Los Angeles County PACE program website at www.lapace.org.

West Covina property owners should be aware that different PACE program administrators have attempted to solicit business in the community. The City has only approved the three program administrators mentioned: HERO, CaliforniaFirst, and Los Angeles County PACE.

Schedule Your Free 'EASY' Home Energy Assessment Screening

The Energy Assessment Screening for Your Home program, or EASY, can help provide solutions to make your home more energy-efficient.

EASY offers a free home energy assessment that includes a customized plan for potential home improvements, information about local rebate and financing programs, and access to an online tool to track your energy usage.

To participate, schedule an appointment online at www.sgvenergywise.org/EASY or call (626) 457-1800.

This program is funded by Southern California Edison Company's Local Government Strategic Plan Strategies Program for the 2013-2014 program period under the auspices of the California Public Utilities Commission.

Fire Department Urges All to Be Mindful of SUMMER HEAT DANGERS

With the summer season in full swing, the West Covina Fire Department would like to remind residents of the emergencies that increase in frequency during the hottest months of the year. Two such conditions are the increased threat of wildfire and the increased susceptibility to heat-related illness.

The wildfire season got off to a fast start this year, both locally and throughout the state. With California sustaining record-breaking droughts and experiencing increasing heat throughout the summer, 2016 is shaping up to be a very busy fire season.

The month of September is the annual "National Preparedness Month," a reminder that we are also susceptible to other threats, such as earthquakes and mudslides. Here are some tips to help you prepare for a wildfire or any other potential disaster:

- Ensure that your home has a "defensible space" that is clear of dry or dead vegetation in the immediate area and adjacent to your home.
- Trim trees away from the roof line on your property. Ensure other combustible materials on your property are removed, such as firewood and construction materials.
- Ensure your chimney has a spark arrestor, that the rain gutters are free of dead vegetation and combustible material, and that your address numbers are readily visible from the street.
- Identify several different escape routes from your home and neighborhood. Make sure everyone in your family is familiar with these routes, and have a designated meeting area away from the fire or hazard area. Remember to include pets and large animals in your escape plans.

- Create disaster kits to include food, water, extra clothes, a flashlight, and basic first-aid supplies.
- Maintain a list of emergency contact numbers posted near your phone and in your emergency supply kit. Also have a family communication plan in place in case you are separated. Keep additional cell phone chargers in your vehicle.

- Immediately after an earthquake, check for injuries and damage. Ensure that your family knows where your gas, electric, and water main shut-off controls are located and how to safely shut them off in an emergency.

- Be prepared if you are at your workplace or school. Keep an extra "ready to go" bag in your car in case disaster strikes while you are away from home. Also, review your company's emergency plan and your children's school emergency plans.

Aside from fire threat, summer temperatures also bring greater potential for heat-related illness and injuries, particularly for infants, children and senior citizens. Signs and symptoms include dizziness, fatigue, faintness, headaches, muscle cramps and increased thirst. These symptoms, if left unaddressed, have the potential to develop into heat stroke. Heat stroke is a life-threatening condition. Symptoms include altered mental state; hot, flushed and dry skin (sweating has stopped); rapid breathing; and rapid heart rate.

To avoid overheating, drink plenty of fluids, even if you aren't thirsty; avoid working outdoors, especially in the middle of the day; and make sure outdoor events have a shaded area such as an umbrella, canopy or tarp and an ice chest full of drinks.

Remember that senior citizens and young children are more susceptible to heat illness, so have plenty of drinks at their disposal.

If anyone shows heat illness symptoms, immediately move that person to a cooler area, provide cold drinks, and use cold wet towels, ice packs, and copious amounts of water to cool off.

Los Angeles County has set up designated "cooling centers" throughout the region for those who don't have access to air conditioning and need to get out of the heat. Dial 2-1-1 on a telephone or visit www.LACOA.org for further information, hours and locations of cooling centers.

Remember to Pick Up After Your Dog

Animal waste contains disease-causing bacteria that, when left on the ground, washes down the storm drains and contaminates beaches. It can increase the risk of viral infections.

When you take your dog for a walk, take along a bag or other container. Picking up dog waste is a county ordinance, and dog owners disregarding this law may be fined. Specific complaints should be reported to Los Angeles County Animal Control at (626) 962-3577.
